MODEST REQUESTS

New York had its share of the "army" yesterday. The visitors came from New Haven by boat, having mustered enough money to pay their fares. They were not allowed to parade the streets, but proceeded to the headquarters of the People's party and sat down to a banquet of frankfurters and beer.

It is significanted that these New Englanders, about sixty in number, repudiate any connection with Coxey. They go to Washington, they say, to petition Congress on their own account, and moderally ask for the establishment of Government of the control of the programme of the special exercises arranged for the schools the decorations are more handsome that this season of the correct the children for the programme more elaborate, but in all something is being done to interest the children for the programme more elaborate, but in all something is being done to interest the children for the programme of the year is dressed in her most attractive and the beautiful works of nature which at this season of the year is dressed in her most attractive and the beautiful works of nature which at this season of the year is dressed in her most attractive and the beautiful works of nature which at this season of the year is dressed in her most attractive and the sective and instructive to the children, as well as to secure a more general observance of the law.

gress on their own account, and modestly ask for the establishment of Government farms and factories where the unemployed may now and at all times be supplied with work; for a constitutional amendment affirming the right of every citizen to have work; for the abolition of interest on bonds; for the construction of good roads; for National control of railroads, telegraphs and mines; for the cultivation of all land not in use, and for nationalizing trusts.

The visitors and their friends meet at Germania Hall to-night to discuss this platform. It may be enlarged by requiring Congress to supply every citizen with good health and a wife who is not suffragist. But it is to be feared there may be as much difficulty in getting Congress to act upon it as there is to make the Senate vote on tariff reform.

Individuality in Dress.

A Philadelphia bachelor of recognized taste said the other day: "I do like a woman who sticks to one or two becoming dresses. She and her dress then become identified with each other, and one gets a distinct idea of a girl in one's and another in yellow and the next in the H. Bischoff.

Well to try some softening application, quite subservient to that of the gown.

CIVIL AND MECHANICAL ENGINEER. Women Butchers in Brooklyn.

Will some of your readers who say they can keep house and support families on $6 or $7 a week kindly inform me, a musician, how we can live on nothing or on an average of one engage ment every three weeks at $5 per engagement? I have been a professional musician for eighteen years, and was born in New York City. I have tried to get something else to do, but wherever I go I find women doing men's work at one-third the wages men used to get. They are in meat shops here and cut and chop meat. Is it any won-der men cannot get work? Why not pass a law, compailing women to support the men? It mu coner or later come to this ANTI-COXEYITE. Brooklyn, N. Y.

Not All Paterson Girls Flirt.

To the Editor: I live in Paterson, and after reading "Hu-Union School Building burned while the bert's' letter in last Saturday's issue, I bled me school was in session yesterday after-out on Sunday to either prove or disprove the assertion therein contained, and after patient and careful study of Paterson girls I must own that did not find quite so many of them willing to firt as H. says. I received black looks from many of second story.

LEWIS AVENUE DRUG CLERK. Brooklyn, N. Y.

To the Editor: In reply to Mr. Dobbins's question, "Who gets the difference between the wages of a printer is New York and the wages of a printer in Londonif there is any difference?" As a collector of rents, I take good care to get a part of it. have often discussed whether I get the whole or not. My opinion is that where all land which can be used for the kind of printing done is taken up, either I or some other "friendly rent collector" gets the whole of it in the end. Where however, there is still some land which can be used by the printer without rent, he gets, in my opinion, a share of his increased wages. Is this opinion, a share of his increased wages. Is this right? This opinion, I mean. Of course it is just enough, because it is only possible by the com-sent of the community which pays the rent, and they appear to be as well satisfied as the land-
